Format of Training

Training

Presentation training: on site with a PET First Aid & Training instructor.

Due to the changes in canine research there are constant updates on how we read the body language of dogs. PET First Aid & Training (NZ) Ltd are constantly researching and attending the latest seminars that give the most up to date information.

Having a presenter on your premises allows for a more easily flowing question and answer session. It allows the attendees to review the information that is given to them and highlight any areas of concern or uncertainty.
